Time Set For United States Railroad Strike

Unless Wage Demand Met 250,000 Men to Quit Jobs May Delay for Mediation

CLEVELAND (AP)—A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced today that committees representing five railway brotherhoods had authorized a strike for September 6 to support demands for a general 20 per cent wage increase.

Whitney said the committees, carrying on negotiations at Chicago, set 6 a.m. of September 6 as the time for members of the brotherhoods to begin leaving their jobs.

The organizations involved, he added, are the trainmen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Railway Car and Equipment Men, the Switchmen's Union of North America and the Order of Railway Conductors.

The membership of the groups totals approximately 250,000 men, Whitney said.

FOUR ZONES

The United States is to be divided into four zones, Whitney added, with each walkout on a different day—strike to become entirely effective by September 9.

Federal mediation, which may be requested by either side in the dispute, would automatically postpone the strike for 30 days. The national mediation board, failing to arbitrate the dispute, may request President Roosevelt to create an emergency arbitration committee, which must report within 30 days. Neither side may take action until a 30-day period has elapsed after its decision.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The national mediation board offered its services today to major railroads and their operating employees in the wage dispute which resulted in a strike call for September 6 by the five railway brotherhoods.

The board said acceptance of its services by both parties was necessary. Otherwise the board must await a request for mediation from one party or the other.

Physical Education to Be Featured in Junior High School Course

Considerable emphasis will be placed on physical education in the curriculum of the junior high school, Major A. C. Hinton, director in charge of physical training, announced today.

The house system will be used almost exclusively for intraschool competition in all seasonal games, Major Hinton reported.

The activities will include soccer, rugby, basketball, cricket, lacrosse, softball, volleyball, badminton, probably tennis, track and field, grass hockey and the new game, speed ball, a combination of soccer, rugby and basketball played on a soccer pitch. These sports will occupy major places in the organized games lists.

Dancing, posture, control, Danish rhythmic and breathing exercises will all be fitted into the curriculum.

As a special feature for the boys, boxing will be reorganized under Major Hinton's direction.

First aid will be taught to the students.

As far as possible the physical activities will be left to the organization of the boys and girls themselves, with supervision by the instructor.

Beside the usual after-school games, three 40-minute periods each will be specifically devoted to physical training.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Messages received at Barrow from Edmonton pilot Bob Randall reported today Randall reached Aklavik, N.W.T., after seeing the Russian hydroplane piloted by Soviet airman Zadkoff down 300 miles east of Barrow.

Randall reported Zadkoff set down his plane to await more favorable weather before flying north over the Arctic in search of the missing Soviet trans-Polar plane.

MATTEN QUITS

The American flyer, Jimmie Mattern, withdrawn from the search for Sigismund Levaneffsky and his five companions, was ready to return to the United States today.

Mattern withdrew because he said he was ill-equipped to cope with Arctic flying conditions.

OVER BEAUFORT SEA

COPPERMINE, N.W.T. (CP)—The Soviet-owned flying boat, piloted by Herbert Hollick-Kenyon and commanded by Sir Hubert Wilkins, was back at its Arctic base here today after an unsuccessful search over Beaufort Sea for the missing Russian polar fliers.

POSITION ESTIMATED

Sir Hubert said he estimated the Russian fliers were down about 500 miles south of the North Pole on their route to Fairbanks, Alaska, from Moscow.

He believed they were about latitude 80 to 82 and longitude 130 to 150. This location is in the Arctic ocean, north of Beaufort Sea, and almost due west from Prince Patrick Island.

Tales of anarchist terror in the conquered city, of thirst and hunger, of pillage and shooting in the streets reached the French shores of the Bay of Biscay.

Inquiry Moves Three Officers

Relieved of Posts Following Discipline Breach on Warspite

LONDON (CP-Cable)—The admiralty today published the names of the three officers who were to be relieved of their appointments in the battleship Warspite as a result of trouble arising from a breach of discipline June 30. They are Captain A. G. C. Langford, Commander D. H. Everett and Lieut-Commander A. F. L. Evans.

The relieved officers will be appointed elsewhere.

A naval court of inquiry in addition yesterday recommended the discharge of three ratings from the navy and the removal of nine others from the Warspite to other naval vessels.

It is understood the breach of discipline, which was not handled in a manner satisfactory to the authorities, was due to a misunderstanding concerning weekend leave while the ship was at Portsmouth.

U.S. in Need of 5,600,000 Homes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Public Works Administration housing experts estimated today the depression has left the American people in need of at least 5,600,000 new homes.

It would take that many, they said, to replace the worst slums and give families about the same kind of living quarters they had in 1930.

REFUGEES' STORY

"In the last days Santander was a city of indescribable horror," said Miss A. R. Caton, British child welfare worker. "Eminent men—doctors, lawyers and their families—were shot right and left by anarchists crazy for revenge before the town fell."

OFFENSIVE IN EAST

VALENCIA (AP)—Government troops pushed an offensive today on the Aragon front of northeastern Spain.

A government spearhead was thrust into General Franco's lines 25 miles southeast of Zaragoza, where the town of Quinto, long held by the insurgents on the Zaragoza-Valencia Road, was occupied by Madrid-Valencia troops.

CHINESE LINES DRIVEN BACK

Japanese Await New Troops For Major Scale Offensive

By JAMES A. MILLIS

On the Hongkew Battlefield, Outside Shanghai (AP)—My own observation of the battle areas in Japanese-occupied Hongkew, north of the Shanghai international settlement, verified today the Chinese defenders have fallen back on a broad front.

Their main lines are pitched now well beyond Shanghai University, on the Shanghai side of the Whangpoo River north of the embattled city.

Visiting the front lines under armed, military escort, I found the enemies facing each other across a shallow "no man's land" only about 150 yards wide. But there was almost no fighting.

The Japanese blue jackets seemed near exhaustion after more than two weeks of incessant battle. It was evident they were content merely to hold their positions until newly-landed army reinforcements could take over their lines.

Then, officers said, the Japanese would launch a major scale offensive. A Japanese commander told me, however, at least another month must pass before any decisive results could be achieved by either side in Hongkew.

TO LAND DIVISIONS

The Japanese army have established a firm foothold on the Yangtze coast north of Shanghai for the landing of divisions from the homeland for extended operations to drive the Chinese from the vicinity of Shanghai.

Off Woosung, where Japan has been landing thousands of fresh troops, the Japanese were reported by their naval attaché to have sunk the 500-ton Chinese survey vessel Chuao Jih with a naval shell.

Canadian Champion Eliminated in Third Round of U.S. Golf

PORTLAND, Ore.—C. Ross Somerville of London, Ont., Canadian amateur golf champion, today was eliminated from the United States amateur golf championship when Winfield Day of Los Angeles defeated him 1 up in their third-round match.

The tall Californian leveled the match at the 16th when Somerville hooked his tee shot and took a bogey 4. On the 17th Somerville again hooked from the tee, reaching deep rough and could not get his par, while Day was on in two and two putts. The 18th was a half in par fives.

Don Moe, Portland, defeated Harry Givan, Seattle, 3 and 1.

Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, defeated Fred Haas Jr., New Orleans, 1 up at the 21st hole.

Haas was stymied on the third extra hole and tried to jump Ward's ball, but failed, and the stocky Washington sharpshooter won with a par three.

Johnny Goodman, one of the prime favorites, advanced to the quarter-finals with a 3 and 1 victory over Lieut. Ken Rogers of Honolulu.

The Omaha boy, national open champion in 1933, won the 15th with a birdie 2 to square the match, then went into a lead by taking the 15th.

Goodman hit a par clip on the 16th and 17th, while Rogers slipped over to end the match. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Britain Plans Strong Action

Government to Deal "Appropriately" With Japan Over Shooting of Envoy

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced tonight it was preparing to deal "appropriately" with the Japanese government on the wounding, by Japanese fliers, of British Ambassador Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen near Shanghai.

This "appropriate action" will be taken as soon as His Majesty's government obtains "certain further information" on the grave international incident.

That was the gist of a Foreign Office communique issued after Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had returned to his desk from a holiday to take charge of the situation.

Mr. Eden was described authoritatively as having taken the air raid incident under "very grave consideration."

Complete reports of the affair were taken before King George VI.

Authorized spokesmen said

there was no doubt the attacking planes were Japanese.

DISMAY IN NANKING

SHANGHAI (CP)—Chinese and foreign diplomatic circles in Nanking today received news of the wounding of Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen with expressions of horror and dismay.

High Japanese officials were quick to express their sorrow. Katsuzo Okumura, secretary of the Japanese embassy, called at the hospital on behalf of the ambassador, Shigeru Kawagoe; Vice-Admiral Tadao Honda, naval attaché of the embassy, called to express the navy's regrets.

Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commanding Japanese naval forces at Shanghai, today ordered an investigation of the Japanese aerial shooting of Sir Hughe M. Knatchbull-Hugessen, British Ambassador to China.

The Japanese commander also called on Admiral Sir Charles Little, commander-in-chief of the British China squadron, to inform him of the action he had taken.

Americans Escape Japanese Attacks

Newspaperman's Car Shelled and Dairy Manager Air Raided

SHANGHAI (CP)—J. B. Powell, Chicago Tribune correspondent on the war front, was jolted but uninjured today when huge Japanese shell splinters smashed into his automobile, which was flying the United States flag.

J. H. McKinnon of Houston, Tex., manager of the large American-owned Poplar Groves Dairy Farms, on the outskirts of Shanghai, saved his life by feigning death under a hail of Japanese aerial bombs and machine-gun fire.

A squadron of Japanese warplanes attacked the farms for the second time within a week, almost annihilating the dairy's herd of 400 pedigreed American cattle.

Fleeing the bombing, McKinnon leaped into an enormous

Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen was on way from Nanking to Shanghai to discuss plans to end Sino-Japanese hostilities.

Say Auto Taken For Chinese Car

SHANGHAI (CP)—Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China, was shot by Japanese aviators while motoring from Nanking to Shanghai this morning. Surgeons said a machine gun bullet had broken the ambassador's back, but had left the spinal cord intact. They said his condition was exceedingly critical, and he might not recover.

Sir Hughe, a first cousin of Senator Adrian Knatchbull-Hugessen of Montreal, was caught in a hail of machine gun fire as he stepped from his official motorcar, flying the Union Jack, to see why Japanese planes were flying overhead.

Brought to Country Hospital in the International Settlement here, doctors found it impossible to extract the bullets because of the patient's weakened condition. He was given blood transfusions soon after his arrival at the hospital, and appeared to rally somewhat.

PLANE FLEW LOW

Sir Hughe's chauffeur said the attacking Japanese plane flew so low that the Japanese ensign on its wings was clearly visible and the flier must have been able to see the British flag on the automobile.

As soon as it was evident the planes were chasing the motor car the party stopped. Sir Hughe was struck as he emerged from the car.

Japanese naval authorities expressed deep regret over the incident, but declared the British flag flying from the radiator of the ambassador's car was not sufficient identification.

ON STRATEGIC ROAD

They claimed the ambassador's car was on a strategic road in time of war and could easily have been taken for a Chinese staff car. A Union Jack painted on the roof of the car might have afforded it a greater degree of protection, they added.

The planes were identified as Japanese by Lt.-Col. W. A. Lovat-Fraser, British military attaché, who was with Sir Hughe. He was knocked unconscious by the concussion of a bomb that fell in a neighboring field a few minutes after the planes strafed their car.

NANKING MISSION

Sir Hughe hurried from Shanghai to Nanking aboard the British destroyer Westcott, July 14, in an effort to forestall the spread of hostilities between the two Oriental powers.

He arrived there on July 16 and immediately went into conference with Wang Chung-hui, the Chinese foreign minister. He remained in Nanking until yesterday, keeping in constant touch with developments.

He was accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Lovat-Fraser and E. L. Hall-Patch, financial representative of the British Government in China.

Lovat-Fraser jumped out of the car to see the reason for the attack and one of the Japanese planes loosed a bomb, which missed the wounded ambassador, but knocked Lovat-Fraser senseless.

A Japanese spokesman deplored the attack on Sir Hughe, and advanced the theory the airman mistook his red, white and blue flag for a Chinese emblem. He declared the ambassador was at fault for not having a flag large enough to drape over the whole roof of his automobile.

crater left from the first Japanese air raid. He lay motionless as though dead until the Japanese planes, which had dived to less than 500 feet above him, flew off.

McKinnon protested to United States consular authorities against the repeated Japanese bombardments.

He and American owners of the property were unable to explain why the farm, over which large American flags are flying, should be a target for the Japanese.

They surmised, however, Japanese aviation officers might have mistaken the farm's machinery, including huge concrete mixers, for Chinese gun emplacements.

A Japanese embassy spokesman, asked concerning reparations, replied:

"We have taken great pains to respect foreign property. So far (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Revolution or Sedition Not Aim, Alberta Premier Says

ENTWISTLE, Alta. (CP)—"We don't want revolution or sedition, all we want is fair play," Premier William Aberhart told a picnic audience here Wednesday.

Plea to be "left alone" by critics, while his government is conducting Alberta's Social Credit experiment was voiced by the Premier.

"We're calling a new session. We're going to fight on," he said as he told of the disallowance of the Alberta banking legislation by the federal government.

Farmer Faces Cruelty Charge

Three Ontario Children Lashed With Wire, Police Told

HAILEYBURY, Ont. (CP)—August Pakknon, Bruce Township farmer, today was charged with malicious assault occasioning actual bodily harm following a report to police by three North Cobalt children, aged 9 to 11, that they had been whipped with a wire lash wielded by Pakknon. The Finnish farmer will appear in court tomorrow.

According to the story told by the boys, Roland McPherson, 11, Kenneth Shaver, 11, and John Shaver, nine, they were returning home last night from a swim when they met Pakknon driving a herd of cattle. He reportedly ordered them to open a gate into his farm. The boys obeyed, and then were attacked by Pakknon's dog, they said.

The farmer, the police report said, then struck the boys with his wire lash. McPherson was cut on the chest and back as the whip fell upon his bare back. John Shaver was cut about the head, while Kenneth received minor injuries.

WASHINGTON CONCERN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt arranged a luncheon conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull today after disturbing developments in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Occurrences which caused most concern at the State Department were two—the report of the shooting of the British ambassador, Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, and a formulation of Japanese plans for an 800-mile blockade along the China coast with the possibility that this might mean some interference with American and other foreign shipping in Chinese waters.

An hour after Secretary Hull was scheduled to talk with the President, Mr. Roosevelt was slated to meet his cabinet. This meeting was set forward a day because the chief executive will leave for Hyde Park tonight.

Golf Mystery Man Charged With Seven-year-old Robbery

ELIZABETHTOWN, N.Y. (P)—Smiling John Montague, Hollywood's mysterious gift to golf, today was released on $25,000 bail, pending trial of a seven-year-old robbery charge, by a New York supreme court justice, who termed him a "modern Jean Valjean."

In making the ruling, Justice P. Brown Brewster said: "It seems impossible that you may now escape any penalty which the law may finally exact from you, and I think I may add, your history for the past six or seven years seems to indicate to me that you will be willing to meet the charge here in a fair, upright, honest and courageous manner."

A milling crowd of spectators that included both "natives" of this little Adirondack mountain resort town and summer visitors jammed the little courtroom, where John Brown's body once lay in state, as Montague appeared, apparently without anxiety, before the bar.

Laidlaw Heirs to Face Court Action Over Succession Duties

PARIS, Ont. (CP)—In a reference to collection of succession duties, Premier Mitchell Hepburn said in his address here last night a writ would be issued against the Laidlaw estate of Toronto. How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacParlane or Vancouver Drug Co. GET WAGE INCREASE

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight thousand Pullman porters won a wage increase of $12 per month yesterday when the Pullman Company signed a working agreement with the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

Robert F. Cole, mediator for the Federal Railway Mediation Board, said the pay boost would raise the basic wage to $100 per month.

C.I.O. Planning Attack on Ford

United Automobile Workers Rally for Big Battle

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A C.I.O. chieftain said today factional strife within the United Automobile Workers of America was "cooling off" as the membership rallied for a fight which its militant president declared would "lick Henry Ford."

Enthusiastic delegates to the U.A.W. convention cheered President Homer Martin's prediction "Henry Ford, or someone for him, will sign an agreement with the U.A.W."

DETROIT (AP)—Harry H. Bennett, personnel director of the Ford Motor Co., declared today the company had made no agreement with the United Automobile Workers of America, "and never will."

Veterans Frown On Sweepstakes

Women in Clubs and Reunions Also Under Fire

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—After Brig-Gen. Alex Ross of Yorkton, Sask., head of the Dominion Command, declared that the legalization of sweepstakes was not a matter concerning war veterans, the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion at its closing session here yesterday voted down a resolution calling for legalized sweepstakes.

"We are here primarily to discuss problems relative to the welfare of ex-servicemen and not to dictate to the government concerning its policy on sweepstakes," Gen. Ross declared. When a delegate suggested the law might be circumvented by the legion putting on "an associate member drive," the Dominion commander declared:

"Do you want the Canadian Legion associate memberships to be peddled around barrooms and beer halls? The name of the Canadian Legion means something in this country and I would certainly object to seeing it used in connection with any such scheme."

G. H. Sturtevant, Sarnia, voiced criticism at the way "reunions are being organized for no other purpose than to conduct drunken orgies."

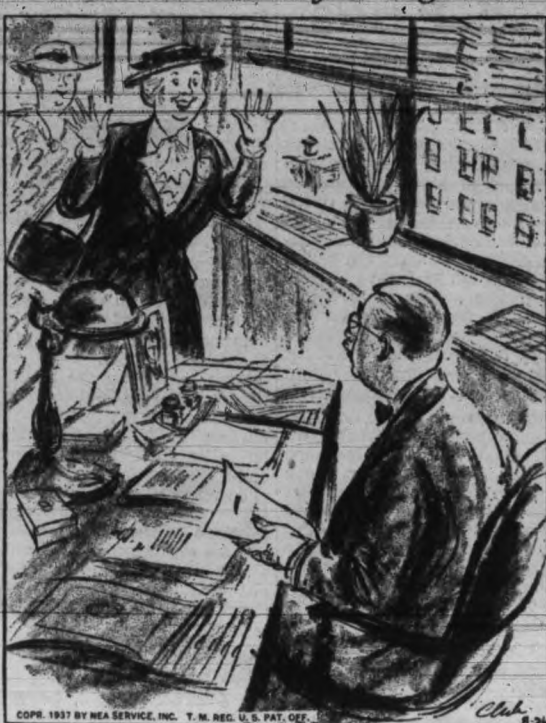

A proposal of allowing women to use the beverage rooms of legion club houses was voted down. Passed was a resolution asking inquiry into working conditions of attendants and nurses at government institutions.

Sabotage Trials In Leningrad Area

MOSCOW (AP)—A purge of "anti-Soviet wreckers" spread today in Leningrad Province, with seven collective farm officials going on trial for sabotage.

All confessed to attempts to discredit Soviet collective farming in order to restore capitalism. Nine others were executed as "terrorists" after trial, the newspapers Leningradskaya Pravda reported today.

Unemployed in Harvest Area

CALGARY (CP)—Invasion of hundreds of unemployed harvesters, many from the drought areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta, has created a problem for police and municipal authorities in the "good crop" districts of southern Alberta.

Farm homes are besieged by hungry workers, seeking a job or food. In most districts harvest crews have been made up and there is little hope for any of the hundreds of men roaming the countryside obtaining work, rural municipal authorities reported today.

France Seeks to Stimulate Trade

Low Interest and Tax Exemptions to Encourage Manufacturers

PARIS (AP)—The government of Camille Chautemps, empowered two months ago to solve France's critical financial situation, decided today to loosen the nation's purse strings.

It adopted a programme of benefits for private industry designed to stimulate economic recovery.

The council of ministers approved a decree by Finance Minister Georges Bonnet providing low interest rates on loans and tax exemptions for manufacturers and builders in an effort to increase production.

Among other decrees signed in a three-hour council session was one fixing the price of wheat at 160 francs a quintal.

SAYS DAMAGE NEGLIGIBLE

Dr. Morris Katz on Stand at Smelter Inquiry

OTTAWA (CP)—Scientific recordings of sulphur dioxide precipitation over United States area adjacent to the Consolidated Smelting and Refining Corporation's smelter at Trail, B.C., were laid before the international arbitration tribunal today.

Dr. Morris Katz, national research council expert, continued his evidence by which the Dominion Government is attempting to prove damage to vegetation from the smelter fumes since 1932 has been negligible.

Farmers in the area south of Trail have entered claims aggregating $2,200,000, which have been submitted to the tribunal for settlement.

Dr. Katz and his associates set up automatic recording machines over a widely scattered area where the claims have arisen, and is proceeding to give detailed readings covering the past seven years.

BIG CITIES' SIN SCORED

Sourdough Says Wickedness As Great As in Gold Rush, But Veneered

TORONTO (CP)—Sinning in the big cities is "veneered," according to R. A. Choquette, who spent seven years in the Yukon during gold-rush days.

Attending the International Sourdough Convention here, Mr. Choquette said there was as much and as many forms of "sinning" behind Toronto locked doors as went on in the Yukon in the gold-rush period.

"The only difference was that in those days you could see what was going on," he said. "Here it is closed. In all the big cities it is veneered. On the frontier it was not veneered."

Modern Usage

THE INCREASING IMPERTINENCE OF the Japanese in their pursuit of the present piracy in China appears to be spreading outward and daily affecting more of the western world.

They have quite without warrant or excuse gravely wounded the British Ambassador in Shanghai. In an official communication expressing formal regret it is noted that the car in which the ambassador was riding was using a "strategic road in time of war" and that the British flag on the radiator of the car was not sufficient identification.

It is a mere evasion of the issue to say that the car was on a strategic road in time of war for the Japanese government has repeatedly asserted that there is no war, that they are only intent upon restoring order in China and have no intention of conquering the country. But now they have shot the British ambassador it is convenient to refer to the affair as an unavoidable incident of war due to the ambassador being where he could only go at his own risk.

It is the custom of modern peoples when they proceed into another people's land to kill and plunder that they shall observe the usual preliminary of withdrawing ambassadors and declaring a state of war to exist. Other nations and individuals are then assured of the actual situation and may take their measures accordingly. The Japanese have not done this.

The plea that the British flag on the car was not enough identification is ridiculous. Anything more unlike the Chinese flag than the Union Jack would be hard to find.

Gold Movements

WHAT MIGHT BE TERMED AN "OFFICIAL" version of the significance of recent gold movements is contained in the August issue of the Federal Reserve Board's Bulletin. The Bulletin notes the decline in the imports of gold into the United States and the slowing up of the dehoarding movement of gold from Europe to the United States. This, which had been in volume in the spring, declined sharply early in July and then virtually ceased. The dollar price of gold in London throughout the spring had been such as to render gold shipments to the United States unusually profitable; but in July it rose to a point at which gold purchased in London no longer yielded a profit when sold in New York, after deduction of costs. Gold imports continued to arrive, however, from Canada and from Japan.

The Japanese Minister of Finance had announced early in March that $14,000,000 in gold would be exported and that more would be shipped if necessary. By the end of July $130,000,000 of Japanese gold had been shipped. Late in July a plan was announced for revaluing the gold reserves of the Bank of Japan on the basis of a gold content for the yen about 13 per cent higher than the gold equivalent of the current exchange rate. The proposed revaluation increases the bank's gold reserves by about 160 per cent and yields the government a profit of about 800,000,000 yen ($250,000,000) of which it is reported that some 200,000,000 yen will be utilized to pay advances from the Bank of Japan, and the remainder will be allocated to an exchange stabilization fund.

Other important developments in relation to gold were the revaluation of gold reserves of the Bank of France and the enlargement of the British Exchange Equalization Account. During the month the United States Treasury made arrangements to sell up to $60,000,000 of gold to Brazil at such times and in such amounts as the Brazilian government might request, and to sell gold to China and purchase silver in order to assist the Chinese government in maintaining the stability of the yuan. On July 20 the United States Treasury's inactive gold account showed a reduction of $42,000,000. This was the first reduction in this account since its establishment on December 24, 1936. Prior to this decline the gold held inactive by the Treasury amounted to $1,213,000,000. Nearly two-thirds of this was acquired through the heavy movement of funds to the United States during the spring.

Poland's Land Need

HISTORY SHOWS THAT MANY WARS have begun over a nation's ambition for more land. Italy's adventure in Ethiopia affords the most effective and most recent illustration of that.

Now Poland is coming out with the hint that more land is needed to take care of its million jobless adults, the majority of whom exist precariously as excess baggage on small farms. Solution to the question has been placed in the hands of an emigration committee formed in the Polish Parliament.

The only trouble with this idea is that practically all the habitable territory of the world is now independent or allocated definitely to some power. Poland's emigration committee, then, faces a stiff problem. How that problem is solved without stepping on someone's toes will be interesting to see.

Seeds of Hatred

JAPAN'S ARMIES WILL FIND CHINA no easy mark, according to Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Nanking government's ruler, thereby echoing reports of front-line observers that China is ready for a long, united siege.

China today is a united nation, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek states in the current Liberty magazine, and will not be coerced into accepting conditions giving Japan control of great regions in the northern part of China proper. She adds, it was Japan's attempt to seize such regions that has made China a nation to be reckoned with.

Japan's reaction to China's new strength and unity, according to Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, has been "a spectacle of successful achievement in three directions, all of them wrong:

"In China, which should be Japan's greatest dependable market, they have not only sown the seeds of hatred; they have awakened a great population and inspired it to protect its hearth and homes. In their own country, political and economic conditions have been created which foreign observers describe as near-catastrophic; which have tended to shatter foreign belief in the substantiality of Japan's moral and material foundations. In the outside world, they have filled various nations with deep distrust and have awakened a dangerous and costly militant spirit."

Bentonite

BENTONITE IS ONE OF THE UNIQUE minerals in that when it becomes wet it will expand to as much as 20 times its original volume; moreover, when mixed with water some varieties of it will remain in suspension indefinitely.

Found in large quantities in the prairie provinces and British Columbia, possible uses for the material have attracted attention of Canadian research workers as to its economic possibilities, particularly in those industries such as oil and lard refining where large quantities of Fuller's earth are used. Last year Canada imported this material to the value of nearly $100,000.

The bentonites of Saskatchewan have recently been investigated by Professor W. G. Worcester of the Department of Ceramic Engineering, Saskatchewan. He found that bentonite may be used in 40 different fields of industrial activity, and that over 240 Canadian and United States patents have been issued covering its use, principally as a bleaching agent or as a filler or binder in rubber, oilcloth, and paper.

While bentonite is not yet produced commercially in Canada, it is being utilized in United States and Germany. Professor Worcester sees no reason why Canadian bentonite can not be processed and utilized, but points out some of the difficulties that must be overcome.

If neutral ambassadors are to be shot without any declaration of war, what chance will generals have in the next war of dying in bed?

The deliberate machine-gunning from the air and wounding of the British ambassador in his flag-draped car by Japanese today, brings home to civilians an idea of what the next great war holds in store for them.

WIDENING FIELD OF BATTLE

From New York Times

Hour by hour, as the scale of operation widens and the fighting becomes more intense, the possibility of a compromise solution of the unacknowledged Sino-Japanese war lessens. The slaughter of combatants and civilians in the Chinese-controlled sections of Shanghai and the spectacular combats over the Whangpoo, which may at any moment make a shambles of the International Settlement, command the floodlights of the news. Significant are the reports of movements of Chinese troops northward, Prince Konoe's blunt rejection of the British proposal—supported by the French—for the neutralization of Shanghai, and his emphatic declaration that intervention by third parties will not be tolerated. The determination of both sides is hardening.

The more serious danger is that the hand-to-hand encounters of the growing military reinforcements, artillery fire and aerial bombs will involve the whole city of nearly 4,000,000. Already one-fourth of it is reported to be in flames. Despite appeals, protests and warnings addressed to both China and Japan by the powers in Shanghai—Great Britain, France and the United States—the danger of an appalling catastrophe grows.

That Japan's present temper is intransigent cannot be doubted. The army and navy leaders are in no mood to heed admonition, even when coming from so friendly a source as the Times of London. That journal—believed sometimes to express the view of the Foreign Office—upbraids Japan in its leading editorial for rushing into war "on blatantly insufficient pretexts and without adequate recourse to mediation." The further warning that "impetuous adventure in Shanghai deserves to lose Japan something more than sympathy" may give pause to political circles in Tokyo. But Japan today, as in 1931, is controlled by the military high command, which now, as then, seems deaf to words of caution.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

CIVIC HUMILIATION

IT IS NOW REVEALED that the beautiful Olivia de Havilland spent three weeks in Victoria recently, went about our streets, talked to our people and not a soul recognized her. Through a combination of curious circumstances, I talked to her on the telephone, and she said she thought the people of Victoria were too, too kind not to bother her during her vacation. Alas, said I, if that were only true! If they had known you were here, I said, they would have mobbed you, just as they did the far less attractive Ginger Rogers, who was practically torn limb from beautiful limb by her admirers.

If Victoria had ignored Miss de Havilland out of consideration for her, that would have been a high testimonial to our civic manners. If we had not been interested in her, if our thoughts were above movie actresses, that would have been a high testimonial to our civic intelligence. (Although I must admit it would be a pretty strange community which wasn't interested in a human creature as lovely as Miss de Havilland, whom I didn't see, but whose voice sounded as gorgeous as her pictures.)

Unhappily it was neither manners nor intelligence which caused this community to overlook the lady. It was stark ignorance. Probably in no community in the world could she walk about without recognition. They would have mobbed her in London. They would have overwhelmed her in Paris or Vienna or Budapest, where her picture is on every board fence and hoarding. But in Victoria she strolls about for three weeks and not a soul suspects it; only a little girl at Qualicum, who is hushed and sworn to secrecy with the promise of an autograph.

I tell you the thing is incredible. Vancouver, on hearing of it, will say that it is just what you would expect, and all the old foolish labels about Victoria being asleep will be dragged forth again. Vancouver will never believe the true explanation, which is very simple. The true explanation is that Victoria produces so many beautiful women itself, so many native daughters just as lovely as the de Havilland, and many (please excuse it, Olivia) more so, that we take such phenomena here as a matter of course.

A de Havilland might cause a riot in Vancouver and stop the traffic in Piccadilly or the Champs, but here she is just one more pretty girl. We have seen so many, we don't stop to look at them any more. And I hope her friends will tell the de Havilland about this, so that she will understand and come back here again for her holidays safe among hordes of beauty.

HELL DRIVERS

PEOPLE HAVE been flocking, they tell me, to see some gentlemen called "Hell Drivers" smash up automobiles with reckless driving. Civilized men love such things, just as the Romans used to flock to gladiatorial games. I wonder how many people would attend a show which demonstrated sane, safe driving. If you were to advertise that Mr. So-and-So, the safest driver in the world, would drive his car through Beacon Hill Park tonight in the safe, sane fashion which has kept him out of accidents all his life, how many spectators would turn up?

Last week-end there was an appalling list of accidents on our island and at the same time, people, not content with the destruction on the highways, attended exhibitions of still more dangerous driving. The streak of mass insanity which psychologists have long suspected in the human family is deepening and widening all the time.

LOGIC

BESIDES WHICH, of course, our highways are utterly inadequate for modern traffic. Perhaps in no other civilized community would a main highway cross and recross railway tracks as it does here without even a wig-wag warning signal. In the most backward country of Europe, where hardly anyone owns an automobile, such level crossings as we have on the Island Highway would be considered an invitation to suicide. Everywhere there are gates on the railways or the roads cross the tracks overhead.

As usual in our progress, we have the cart before the horse. Or rather, we are using mechanical carts on roads built for horses. It will be 50 years at our present rate of road development before we are ready to accommodate automobiles in safety, and by that time either cars will be traveling too fast even for the super-highways of that time, or else we shall be flying, or wafting our minds and souls about by television while we sit still at home. The roads will be inadequate or useless in any case.

Before we started driving modern cars we should have built modern highways, but that would have been logical. The only thing we can't tolerate is logic.

800 DEFENDANTS!

From Canadian Underwriter

Writes are usually very simple things, presenting no technical problems for the lawyer who directs their issuance or the stenographer who types them out. A stenographer in the law office of Hon. G. N. Gordon at Peterborough had a busy Saturday's work on her hands when she typed out a writ against Lloyd's of London, according to a recent dispatch in The Toronto Star. Instead of the customary one, two or three names of defendants to be listed, there are 800 of them. Since Lloyd's is not a corporate firm, all suits against them must be directed against each of the 800 participating members by name. Mr. Gordon's case was a suit for damages in connection with a fire insurance policy on the property of Used Store Fixtures Ltd. It is stated. A claim for $6,000 was made under the policy, but Lloyd's did not pay.

Business Expects Inquiry to Remove Causes of Radicalism

MONTREAL

HOW CANADIAN high finance and big business views the objectives of the economic and constitutional Royal Commission under Chief Justice Rowell, appointed by the federal government, is set out by Col. Phelan's Financial Press Service:

Without any question, two of the most significant developments of recent date in the Dominion of Canada are the appointment of the personnel of the Royal Commission with wide powers to explore the relations between the federal authority, and the provinces, and the disallowance of Alberta bank legislation by the Dominion Government. Superficially, there may appear to be little connection between an effort to investigate relations between the Dominion and the provinces, and the action of Ottawa in disallowing provincial acts which were unquestionably an invasion of federal authority.

ALBERTA'S FLIGHT A FACTOR

A LITTLE thought, however, will reveal that there is considerable connection between the two history-making developments. Let us consider first the disallowance of Alberta legislation. The Social Credit administration of that province was voted into office by a substantial majority of the voters which was wooed by the honeyed phrases of demagogues, economic panacea hunters hopelessly ignorant of the prime principles of economics, and by ambitious ne'er do wells. The province had suffered from poor crops and the other economic dislocations consequent on the world-wide depression and the voting element in this population of approximately 750,000 showed itself to be particularly susceptible to grandiose promises which could never be carried out. The Social Credit dividend of $25 per month is still the fantastic dream it has always been.

INVESTIGATION WILL BE REVEALING

WITH this thought clearly in mind, let us turn to the terms of reference of the Royal Commission. We are still a long way off from the report of this investigating body. It can be safely assumed, however, that considerable duplication of effort will be revealed between the federal government and many of the provinces. No one doubts that administration expenditures can be pared down considerably and other savings can be made which will ultimately ease the burden of the taxpayer. A re-examination of the legislative boundaries of federal and provincial authority is likely to show some jagged edges which need the firm hand of determination, and definition to make them clear and remove ambiguity.

CLARIFICATION A CHECK ON DEMAGOGUE

WHEN a diagnosis is arrived at on these matters by the Royal Commission, and the government at Ottawa takes action, either through amendments to the British North America Act or other channels, if there are any, then it will become clearer to every potential or prospective provincial legislator that his efforts at framing a provincial act are limited. With grievances removed, the public will be less ready to listen to every vote-catcher who cares to take the stump. There are those who are prepared to say that, had the present Royal Commission been appointed a decade or even less ago, and sound suggestions put into effect, there would never have been a Social Credit government, repudiation of funded debt obligations, disturbed credit and finally the stern need for disallowance. It is the earnest hope of all Canadians and the hope is justified by the character of Albertans in general, that Alberta will emerge strong and sound with a good government. Of more importance, is it now that the Royal Commission act swiftly and soundly to stave off the demagogues and crack-brains in other provinces. An up-to-date revision of the federal constitution would remove many real and alleged grievances, and render unambiguous definition to the social, economic and judicial spheres of governments.

SHOULD PROVINCES BE MERGED?

Should the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta each continue to have separate governments, and if the territory involved had been under one unified Legislature, would the disturbances of Social Credit have occurred? These are large questions and the answers must come from the responsible members of the Royal Commission and the government. It is sufficient to note that one province with a small population has given Canada its first unsavory taste of unorthodox, unworkable and im-

THE DEAN AND PLATONIC FRIENDSHIPS

To the Editor:—In reply to "An English Visitor's" kind and sensible letter in Tuesday's Times may I say that I do not object to platonic friendships so-called as such, but I think they are difficult and sometimes dangerous.

According to my "notes" of my sermon I stated in this connection: "Platonic friendships are delicate and difficult things, and not everyone should embark upon them, but they are not impossible. They may be an enormous boon, and when lifted up into the Fellowship of Christ deserve the words of Tennyson—'Thrice blest whose lives are faithful prayers, whose loves in higher Love endure,' etc. The reference to 'Gethsemane' concerned not a platonic friendship, but a sexual love which it was felt must be abandoned.

I would like to commend all Dr. Herbert Gray's books to those interested in the application of Christianity to their own personal problems, especially "Men, Women and God," a discussion of sex questions from the Christian point of view. (If this letter catches the eye of the person who has my copy of this book I should be grateful for its speedy return.)

By the way, there is an excellent and able article in the August issue of The Reader's Digest, entitled "The Case for Chastity," approaching the question from the point of view solely of physiology and psychology. One wonders whether this article is a straw on the surface of a stream tending in the direction of something more conservative and rigorous than the so-called "New Morality."

I ought to have mentioned last Sunday evening the title of Dr. Gray's book on which I made such liberal demands. It was "About People," and is published by the Student Christian Movement Press. Last Sunday morning I sketched the outline of another helpful book, by Leslie Weatherhead, entitled "How to Find God." I mention this because some of my hearers have asked for its exact title.

Dean of Columbia.

REGRET OVER RESIGNATION

To the Editor:—It was with some regret, if not exactly deep grief, that I noticed an item of news announcing Mr. C. S. Thomas's resignation of the presidency of the Victoria central division of the Young Citizens' League. I sincerely hope this only means he is taking higher — perhaps national? — office in this Dominion-wide and world renowned organization.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

AUGUST 26, 1912

(From The Times Files)
Word was received at the local offices of the B.C. Coast Service that the Princess Patricia had completed her 200th trip between Nanaimo and Vancouver and including the night trips this popular steamer has carried in all 50,000 passengers between the two points.

Arrangements have been completed by the parade committee of the Trades and Labor Council for the celebration on Labor Day.

The City Council last evening dealt with one of its perennial troubles, when it was resolved on a division to inform the Oak Bay Municipality that the council has no objection to the grant of a permit for racing at the Willows Park next month. The vote stood four to three and accordingly the permit will be granted.

Victoria Man Married On Mainland

Miss Dorothy Mellicke Is Bride Of Mr. Kenneth Moore

VANCOUVER—Prominent families of Vancouver and Victoria were united by the 7 o'clock marriage service in Canadian Memorial Chapel last evening, at which Rev. G. Harrison Villet read nuptial rites for Dorothy Ruth, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo E. Mellicke, and Mr. Kenneth Frederick Moore of Victoria, younger son of Mrs. Moore and the late Frederick Moore of the capital city.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Gretchen Mellicke, Miss Jean Tomlinson of Winnipeg and Miss Helen Forsyth. Mr. Douglas Cox was Mr. Moore's best man. Tall, graceful standards held white hydrangeas and gladioli, star-studded with silvered maple leaves. White cathedral tapers burning in two multi-branched torches caught up the lustrous sheen of French faille taffeta gowns, the bride in white, her sister in turquoise, Miss Forsyth wearing tea rose, and Miss Tomlinson, jonquil yellow.

To pews marked with satin-tied bouquets of white asters and snapdragons, guests were ushered by Mr. Brian Hopkins and Mr. Rodney Browne of Vancouver, and Mr. Wendie Tolmie and Mr. Ian McQueen of Victoria. White snapdragons, peach asters and baby zinnias were on the altar that was banked with the greenery of palms and ferns.

The bridal gown, which carried the rippling folds of the skirt from a closely-fitted waistline into a long flaring train, was fashioned with an Elizabethan collar and mousquetaire sleeves, ruched over the wrists. A Juliet cap of the faille secured the tulle illusion veil that cascaded from beneath a spray of orange blossoms across the nape of the neck. Rapture roses, swansonia and blue starlarks composed the bride's colonial bouquet.

Reminiscent of the Empire era were the frocks of the attendant trio. Square-cut décolletages of moulded bodices were outlined in cording, corresponding to that at the hem-lines of the bouffant skirts. Wired flower petals accentuated the puffing of long sleeves at the shoulders. In tone with their dresses were the bridesmaids' Juliet caps and their colonial nosegays, mingled with gladioli, marguerites, lilliputs, blue lace flowers and scabious.

Mothers of the principals assisted the bride party in receiving at the reception held at the Selkirk Avenue home of the bride's parents, in a setting of massed flame and white gladioli and snapdragons, intermingled with palms and sansevieria. Black marquette, shadowed in black and white over black taffeta, was worn by the bride's mother. Her circle-brimmed, black lacquered straw hat was faced in white and yellow buttercup mounted the crown. Replacing a corsage was a floral bracelet.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Moore wore a Directoire model of sapphire blue satin with a black caracul cape. Quills were crossed on the wide brim of Mrs. Moore's velvety velvet hat, and gerbers in her corsage.

At the tea-table the urns were presided over by Mrs. Gordon Bell, Mrs. W. W. Colledge, Mrs. H. D. Crowe and Mrs. W. H. Parker. A garland of sweet peas encircled the base of the multi-tiered wedding cake which stood on a separate table.

Later in the evening, the bride changed to a two-piece wool tailleur of autumnal cerise, with double rows of squirrel for the collar of the peplumed coat, which opened over a dove grey satin blouse. Grey chiffon velvet was combined with the suit fabric to fashion the accompanying chic hat, and accessories were grey. Gardenias were in her corsage.

Following their wedding trip to Prince Rupert and Jasper National Park, Mr. Moore will take his bride to reside in Victoria, where she attended St. Margaret's School prior to entering the Margaret Eaton School in Toronto. There she took the physical education course and later, post-graduate work at the Nils Buhk School in Denmark.

At Recent Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Larsen are shown with their attendants, Miss Doris Hunt and Mr. Lars Larsen, following their recent wedding. The bride was Miss Gertrude Florence Hunt.

EMPRESS BROWN LABEL TEA

It doesn't take a tea specialist to produce a merely "strong" tea; neither is it difficult to make up an "expensive" tea. But to create a blend which combines delicacy of flavor and aroma with good color and "body", and to offer it at a reasonable price—this calls forth all the skill and experience at the command of the expert blender. But that is what EMPRESS has achieved—and it is the reason why you really must try:

Clubwomen's News

Victoria Chapter No. 25 Women of the Moose met on Monday evening in K. of P. Hall, 1415 Broad Street, with Sr. Regent M. Carter presiding. Sick Matron Mrs. R. Panting reported several members ill. An interesting report was given by Past Regent E. Jane of the garden tea held at her home recently, and she was heartily thanked. Past Regent A. Hatcher gave a report of the recent card party. A welcome was extended to Mrs. Proctor, a visitor from Vancouver. The junior order is planning a dance in the A.O.F. Hall September 24; the chapter will assist them with supper. The meeting adjourned till Monday, September 13, at 8 p.m., when members are especially requested to attend, as by-laws drawn up for the chapters' use will be presented for discussion and approval. The evening was enjoyably concluded with a whist drive, convened by Past Regent A. Hatcher. The winners were Mrs.

M. Carter and Mrs. E. Jane; Mrs. M. Robertson and Miss D. Guelpa; Mrs. M. Crabtree and Mrs. M. Murcheson. A sit-down supper was served by Mrs. R. Panting, Mrs. M. Robertson and Miss D. Guelpa.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church held their regular monthly meeting in the lecture hall of the church with Miss Templeton, vice-president in the chair. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer followed by a hymn, and the devotional period of the meeting was then taken over by Mrs. Slater. An interesting article was read by Miss Rodger and prepared by Mrs. Stewart on "The Pioneer Woman." It was decided to have the banks turned in at the November meeting instead of December as previously done. Arrangements were made for a sewing meeting at the home of Miss Rodger on September 23 to finish the quilt. Members are asked to attend if possible and if unable to come to please turn in their patches before the 23rd, so that the others can carry on with the quilt. Tea was served by the committee in charge and a short social time spent at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. W. G. Sotham of Banstead, Surrey, England, and her daughter Rosemary, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Taylor, Carnes Street, will leave tomorrow afternoon for the mainland on their way to Quebec from where they will sail on September 2 on the Empress of Australia for her home in Great Britain.

The Misses Edna Simmons and Margaret Foyer entertained at a kitchen shower at the latter's home on Northcott Street last evening in honor of Miss Beth Dobbie, a September bride-elect. The reception rooms were arranged with summer flowers. An inverted parasol trimmed to represent a large rose with petals in two shades of pink, was placed in front of the fireplace, and the many useful gifts concealed within. Little Shirley Jarvis presided these to Miss Dobbie, who also received a corsage of pink carnations and sweet peas. The supper table was most attractive with a centerpiece of pink sweet peas and snapdragons in a silver bowl, lighted by pink tapers in silver holders. Games were enjoyed during the evening. The guests were: Mrs. M. Dobbie, Mrs. P. J. Simmons, Mrs. F. Allen, Mrs. E. Simmons, Mrs. J. Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERD

ALL THAT BABY DOES PUZZLES AND WORRIES YOUNG MOTHER

The young mother is seldom in a position to decide the seriousness of a child's behavior, or symptoms. She is bothered about everything the baby does and wants knowledge of what to do about it. So many situations can be ignored since what the baby is doing has no particular significance.

The following questions, though, should be interesting to all those mothers to whom a new baby is a conundrum every waking moment.

Mrs. F. H. writes: "My baby is three months old and has gained five pounds, now weighing 14. He is good and hardly ever cries.

APPETITE VARIES
"I give him a formula of 12 ounces of evaporated milk, 20 of boiled water and four teaspoons of corn syrup. This mixture is boiled three minutes and he gets six four and a half ounce feedings.

"Is the formula right? Why does he gulp it down at one feeding and the next time act as if he doesn't want it? I have to waken him at 10 p.m. for a feeding. Is he too young to go through the night without me? I have heard that it isn't good to give canned milk for long—is this true?

"He sucks his finger persistently. How can I break him of this? Why does he stick his fingers down his throat and gag himself? He chews his fist a lot. Could he be teething? What is wrong when he perspires a lot during his sunbath?"

MORE FOOD
The formula could be as much as 14 ounces of evaporated milk, four and a half tablespoons of syrup and enough boiled water to make five six and a half ounce feedings. These can be offered at 6, 10, 2 and 6 and any time at night at which he awakens naturally for one. The gain is excellent. Unless you are giving water too close to a meal, baby should be hungry every four hours.

All the attention the finger sucking needs is to take his finger out of his mouth. Babies stuff fingers into their eyes and down their throats because their movements are instinctive rather than purposeful.

ALWAYS TEETHING
The evaporated milk can be used indefinitely provided you offer some form of vitamin C daily (oranges, lemon juice, tomato juice, fresh cabbage juice) to make up for that lost in processing the milk. Your letter did not mention this and it is a real lack in your diet. With this lack supplied, evaporated milk can be used indefinitely.

You may have for a self-addressed and stamped envelope leaflets on "Evaporated Milk Formulas" and "Feeding From Two to Nine Months." The baby is teething from birth, but only at certain ages is there any disturbance due to tooth eruption. At this age the assumption is absurd. You are probably overdoing the length of the sunbath.

Critical Of Eisteddfod Ruling

Canadian Choir Leader On Welsh Contests.

LONDON (CP)—Experiences of the Ottawa Women's Choir at the recent Eisteddfod choral competitions in Wales were not altogether happy, according to the leader of the Canadian singers, Wilfred Coulson.

Differences in language, different singing technique and the arrangements for the competition marred for them what Coulson termed "a really inspiring musical festival."

The Canadian choir placed fifth among eight entries, but the leader of the visiting singers contended judging was not along the lines that would prevail in such a competition in Canada.

In disagreement with Coulson's views was Sir Ernest Campbell MacMillan, dean of the faculty of music at the University of Toronto and leader of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, who assisted in judging several of the Eisteddfod competitions, including the women's choir contest.

While Coulson said he admired the choir that obtained first and second places in the competition, he voiced disapproval of the administration and organization arrangements made at the Eisteddfod, and the method of adjudication. Reverberations of the Welsh nationalist dissension movement were apparent at the Eisteddfod, he thought.

Later they will spend some time at Glenaeles, Scotland, returning on the Empress of Britain September 18.

Sir Herbert said his visit was purely a holiday trip.

Heavyweight Fight Off Until Monday Night

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

ENGLISH soccer, which resumes on Saturday, marks its golden jubilee this season. In March, 1888, William G. McGregor sent a circular to a few soccer clubs outlining a plan to provide home and away games. His idea clicked and the football league, now popularly known as the English Football League, was formed April 17 the same year with 12 members.

This Scotsman of Perthshire birth, Aston Villa leader, saw the need for competitive play in football but by no stretch of the imagination did he realize to what broad lengths his scheme would be carried. On the eve of the 1937-38 opening, there are 88 entries, 22 in each of four divisions, including the 12 "originals." The second division was formed in 1892, the third, southern, in 1920, and the third, northern, a year later.

As representatives prepare for the bruising eight-month battle, the season is marked at the outset by retirement of the game's most colorful figure, Alex James. The Arsenal and Scottish international has signed a seven-year contract as director of a football pool—a business that has grown to huge financial proportions in recent years.

The canny Scot ended last season as a sort of player-coach, but preferred to finish his brilliant career with cheers ringing in his ears rather than continue. "If you become a manager you lose your self-respect," he said. But the powerful gunners, perhaps England's most colorful team, are far from shattered. They are "hankering" for Byrn Jones, Wolverhampton's fleet forward and a record transfer fee of $70,000 is being discussed. They are also keen on 19-year-old Eddie Carr of Durham.

The season's opening features are billed for Wolverhampton and Valley Parade grounds, London, home of Charlton. The Wanderers are on the "spot" as they meet last year's league champion, Manchester City, while Charlton, runner-up and wonder team of the loop that toured Canada and the United States during the summer, entertains Leeds United. The Athletics advanced from the third to premier league in three years.

Sunderland's cup-winning aggregation begins the season against Middlesbrough and Preston North End, vanquished in the cup final, opens fire against Grimsby Town.

Clubs are relying mainly on home-town talent this year. Apart from the Jones transfer, the market for high-priced players is dead. Never before in the game's history has the young player such a chance to establish himself.

Only minor changes in the rules and regulations herald the season's opening while many clubs, counting on prosperity gates, have enlarged grandstands.

WEATHER GIVES LOUIS AND FARR FOUR-DAY REST

Promoter Mike Jacobs Announces Postponement After Weighing-in Ticket Sale Light

NEW YORK (AP)—The heavyweight championship fight between Joe Louis and Tommy Farr, scheduled for tonight, was postponed until Monday night because of rain.

The four-day postponement was announced by Promoter Mike Jacobs shortly after the rival fighters weighed in, at the offices of the State Athletic Commission.

The Welsh challenger had a nine pound advantage on the scales, weighing 207 to 198 for Louis.

Because of the length of the postponement, the fighters will be obliged to go through the official weighing-in and examination ceremony again on Monday.

A drizzling rain, with no signs of letup by tonight or encouraging reports as to tomorrow's weather, prompted Jacobs to defer the title match.

Another factor, presumably, was that the advance ticket sale has been disappointing.

Both fighters decided to return to their camps, Farr to Long Branch, N.J., and Louis to Pompton Lakes, N.J., for light workouts.

The postponement was the second in as many years for Louis in a major engagement. His memorable bout with Max Schmeling, just a year ago, was deferred one night because of rain.

Somerville In Two Smart Wins

Canadian Reaches Last 16 in U.S. Golf at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Champion Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, giving no indication he intended to relinquish his crown, led the 16 surviving Musketeers into the withering fire of the third and fourth rounds of the United States amateur golf tournament at the Alderwood Club today.

An even dozen were doomed as "also-rans" by nightfall, leaving four to move into the 36-hole semi-finals tomorrow.

All of the remaining sharpshooters were considered to have excellent chances to make the semi-finals, but most prominently rated was C. R. "Sandy" Somerville, reigning Canadian champion of London, Ont., and former United States titlist.

The all-around Canadian amateur star belted out two opponents yesterday. Bob Servis of Dayton, O., fell 2 and 1 before Somerville's brilliant "stretch" shot-making in the morning round, while Mat Palacio of San Rafael, Cal., failed to match Sandy's steadiness in the afternoon and lost 3 and 1.

Fischer pushed Robert Babbish of Rochester, Mich., out of the picture in the opening set to, 4 and 3, and ended up the day with a 5 and 4 win over Fred Clark, Jr., of San Gabriel, Calif.

Chick Evans, nearly fifty, and playing his twenty-eighth amateur championship, made an uphill fight to defeat Charles Finger, Burlingame, Calif., youngster, on the twentieth hole.

In the second round he cracked par all over the Alderwood course to whip Joe Lynch of Boston, 3 and 2.

Evans clubbed out a sensational 33, four under par, to lead Lynch 3 up at the 9th. For the 16 holes played he was two under standard figures.

City Will Play Final Saturday

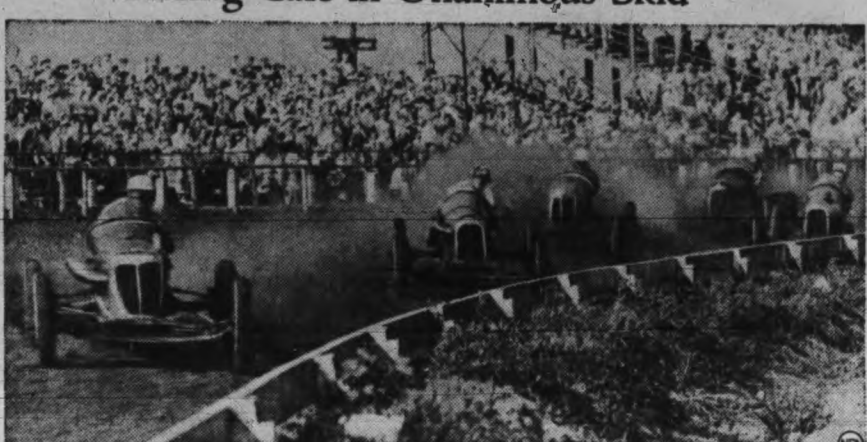

VANCOUVER—Despite the absence of Paul Kozoolin, star centre half, Bill Thompson, manager of the North Shore soccer team, said yesterday his eleven was "all set" for their meeting Saturday with Victoria City for the Province Cup final.

Bill Cummings will replace Kozoolin, who is holidaying in the local wrestling house, know that he is capable of taking care of himself in any and all kinds of company.

A semi-main and a special event along with a local preliminary will round out the card. The show will open at 8.45.

YORK, Eng.—Sir Abe Bailey's Weatherlane, starting at 100 to 6, yesterday won the 90th renewal of the Ebor Handicap over 1½ miles.

Racing Cars in Unanimous Skid

A thrilling moment as five drivers deliberately skid their cars to make the most dangerous turn in a 50-lap race on the half-mile Fair Grounds track on the edge of Chicago.

EX-HIGH GIRLS CAPTURE TITLE

North Saanich Nine Defeat Cardinals, 10 to 6, in Softball Final

Turning in a good performance, North Saanich Ex-High girls last night won a 10 to 6 decision over Jack Taylor's Cardinals in the second and decided game of the Women's Softball League play-off to capture the championship.

The Cards fielded well but lost out through poor hitting. The suburbanites won the first game of the best-of-three series, 8 to 4.

Score by innings: Cardinals—220020000—6; Ex-High—15012001x—10.

Batteries: D. Dale-Johnson, I. Miliken and V. Hannan; V. Heal and G. Jones.

A seven-run attack in the fourth frame paved the way for Esquimalt Millionaires' 12 to 5 victory over Palais de Danse in a Peden Cup semi-final tussle at the Athletic Park. Buddell, on the hill for the winners, let his opponents down with three safeties, all of which were got in the first inning. Whitfield was caught for eight knocks by, Millionaire batters.

Score by innings: Palais de Danse 4001000—5; Millionaires—003711x—12.

Batteries: Whitfield and Rainey; Buddell and Woods.

By defeating Odd Fellows, 12 to 4, last night at Victoria West Park, Hollywood Club D softballers advanced to the final of the Peden Cup series.

At the Athletic Park tonight, Painter's Bruins, contesting with Hillcrest for the island senior crown, will battle Kents in a Poodle Dog Cafe match at 6.

MAIN EVENT IS ANNOUNCED

Billy Hanson to Battle "King Kong" Kashey in Mat Bout Saturday

Abe "King Kong" Kashey, the No. 1 badman of the wrestling rings, will make a return appearance on the local battlefront Saturday night when he meets Billy Hanson, clever Salt Lake City exponent, in the headline bout of 10 six-minute rounds at the Tillicum gymnasium.

Having secured a pair of good men for the main grind, Promoter Fred Richardson is now looking around for a trio of outsiders who have never showed here before for the supporting card.

Kashey is probably one of the toughest gents of the bone-bending game to appear here. However, Hanson is smart and followers who have seen some of his polished performances in the local wrestling house, know that he is capable of taking care of himself in any and all kinds of company.

A semi-main and a special event along with a local preliminary will round out the card. The show will open at 8.45.

Giants Creep Two Games From Lead

New York Club Knocks Over Chicago Cubs 8 to 7 and 4 to 2

The Chicago Cubs met the enemy—and couldn't get away from them.

Even if they'd been in the next county, it's doubtful, if those Chicago clouters could have gotten the Giants out of their hair yesterday as they blew both ends of their doubleheader with the second-place New Yorkers. They kicked away a five-run lead in the opener and a one-run edge in the nightcap, which shaved their National League lead to a mere two points.

Even a couple of startling performances in the American League couldn't take the spotlight yesterday. For one, there was Bobby Feller, looking like a real pitcher, fanning 16, allowing four hits and hurling the Cleveland Indians to an 8 to 1 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the opener of a twin bill, the nightcap of which went to the Boston, 8 to 1.

For another, there was a major league record equalled when the Tigers' outfield didn't have a fielding chance as the Detroiters drubbed Philadelphia Athletics 10 to 4.

Although only two games separate the Cubs and Giants; the rest of the first division—St. Louis and Pittsburgh—are coming up fast on the outside, with only eight games separating the top from fourth place.

Such being the case, the four-game series the Pirates opened with the Giants in a twin bill today assumed all the more importance. If the Bucs, who belted the Boston Bees, 6 to 0, behind the continued-classy flinging of young Russ Bauers yesterday, can get over the habit of "stoozing" for the still crippled Giants, there's going to be a lot of fun before they move away from Harlem.

CARDS COMING UP

And when they finally go along, the Giants will have to get ready for those Cards, who are beginning to get pitching of sorts. Lon Warneke and St. Johnson were the right sort yesterday and had the Brooklyn Dodgers breaking their backs as they took a twin win, 4 to 2 and 5 to 2.

The Giants, meantime, didn't need any Blondy Ryan to shout his "They Can't Beat Us" piece from the housetops. Behind 7 to 1 in the ninth inning of the opener, their chances looked like Tommy Farr's, but the Cub infield blew up, Jimmy Riddle hit a homer, and the score was all even as five unearned runs poured across. They won in the 11th, 8 to 7. In the nightcap, the Cubs got away in front again, but Jopie Moore and Hank Leiber took care of that little detail with homers that produced a 4 to 2 win.

The New York Yankees held their 10½ game American League lead with a 10 to 5 trouncing of their ex-jinx, Thornton Lee, and Kansas City—Everett Marshall, 223, La Junta, Colo., defeated George Zaharias, 230, Pueblo, Colo., two out of three falls.

Tillicum Salmon Derby On Sunday

Sprint Events Billed Tonight

The weekly sprint events around Beacon Hill Park, sponsored by the Victoria Cycling Club, will be held tonight. Post entries will be accepted, and it is expected that a better showing will be made than last week. The races will start at 7 sharp.

Public Invited to Compete in Fishing Competition at Brentwood

A long line of boats will be strung out between the Home Oil beacon and ferry slip in Brentwood Bay early next Sunday morning, anxiously awaiting the boom from the gun that will sound at the stroke of 6 to announce the opening of the Tillicum Athletic Club's first annual public salmon derby.

WIN EASILY

Trounce Esquimalt 16 to 1 in Second Division Boxla Tussle

Owl Drug stickhandlers handed the Esquimalt lads one of their worst beatings of the boxla season last night when they met at the Athletic Park in a second division encounter. The closing whistle saw the druggists in front, 16 to 1.

Doug Bray, a shifty youngster, captured the spotlight again. He netted seven of the winners' goals.

A light drizzle prevailed during the match, which made the grass slippery and resulted in many misplays.

The druggists opened up on the offensive from the start and piled in four goals in short order, Bray getting two and Milnes and Knowles bagging one apiece. Esquimalt started to rough matters up, and both Fellow and Renton were ordered to the cooler for five-minute rests.

In the second quarter the eventual winners outscored their opponents, 4 to 1, to take seven-goal lead at the half-way mark. Scorers during this period were: Bray 2, and Wallace and McMillan 1 each. Glass accounted for the dockers' only tally.

The third quarter saw play more even. Wallace's goal for the druggists was the only one scored. The Owl Drug boys found their stride again in the final session and tallied seven times. Ed Popham refereed.

The teams were: Esquimalt—Wyatt, McConnell, White, Derry, Fellow, Renton, McEvay, Stewart, Glass, Frankham, Stevenson and Barker.

CITY GOLF TO START SUNDAY

Annual Men's Championship Opens at Colwood; Todd Defends Title

Victoria's amateur golfers are busy this week sharpening up their clubs for the opening of the annual men's city championship at the Colwood Club bright and early Sunday morning. The first day will be confined to the 36-hole qualifying round.

Match play will open the following Saturday with two 18-hole rounds. Quarter-finals and semi-finals will be run off the next day with the 36-hole final scheduled for Labor Day.

Jimmy Todd, clever southpaw from the Victoria Golf Club, who recently returned from taking part in the Canadian amateur championship at Ottawa, will be on hand to defend his laurels.

Missing from this year's tournament will be two well-known players Ken Lawson and Harold Brynjolfson. The former, following his return from the national at Ottawa, has decided to take a rest from competitive play while Brynjolfson will not be able to compete through business reasons.

Sooke Attracts Many To the Great Outdoors

Splendid Resorts Offer Delightful Spots for Holiday

Vancouver Island offers a wide variety of holiday playgrounds, from the far-distant lakes and mountains to the peaceful little spots much nearer home. Among the latter is Sooke, a district that holds within its comparatively small area a network of scenic roads, picturesque mountain scenery, gentle farm lands and peaceful flowing waterways.

The journey to Sooke can be made in a little over an hour's run from Victoria, on a road that branches just beyond Colwood into east and west forks, giving the holiday-seeker a fine choice of scenery. Both roads pass through heavily wooded and broken countryside before reaching Sooke Harbor, an almost completely landlocked bit of water about three miles long and two miles wide. In this inner harbor there are many sandy beaches and the water is warm and pleasant for swimming. It is these bays and beaches that make Sooke such an ideal holiday possibility.

From Victoria, the East Sooke Highway branches away along the sea front, past the Esquimalt Lagoon and on toward Albert Head. The ever-changing beauty of skyline and sea makes this an interesting drive at any time. Farther back in the district that East Road joins the West by the popular Gillespie Crossroad, a winding trail of rugged beauty that takes the visitor through the very centre of the Sooke woods.

EAST SOOKE RESORTS

East Sooke is served by several splendid summer resorts. One of the most delightful, although comparatively new in the business of catering to holiday seekers, is Seagirt, almost at the very end of the road. Here 180 acres of marvelous vacation land, situated on the waterfront, have been thrown open to holiday seekers. The main lodge presents the appearance of a well-kept up-to-date farm home. There is a lovely lounge and big open fireplace, an airy dining-room and a modern kitchen where all the delicious eatables that tempt jaded appetites are cooked and prepared. It is possible to live at the main lodge or camp at one of the house-keeping cottages along the beach. The air is tonic with the tang of salt water and the resinous perfume of the woods. The water is warm and the beaches are sandy and clean. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Horgan, the owners of Seagirt, have done everything possible to make it a delightful vacation resort.

Possibly the largest and best known of the resorts in East Sooke is Glenairly. This is a rambling, vine-covered lodge surrounded by some hundred acres of grasslands that slope gently to the sea. There is a clean, white gravel beach, good saddle horses, boats for rowing and sailing, tennis and badminton courts, fishing and dancing. There is also home cooking, fresh fruits and vegetables, and Jersey cream to please the visitors. Glenairly is indeed a splendid place for a holiday.

WOODSIDE FARM

Almost at the end of the West Sooke Highway is perhaps the best known resort in all Sooke. It is the Woodside Farm. Famed far and near for the perfection of its chicken dinners and the many comforts it offers, Woodside is rapidly growing into a perfect vacation spot. It is a square white farmhouse of many windows and wide verandas, in a setting of grassy fields and the darker-hued trees. Everything within and without the house is spotlessly clean. The rooms are airy and there is an air of restful peace about the whole place. For the jaded and tired, the mother who wishes a safe, healthy place for children to roam, or the vacationist in search of perfection, Woodside Farm offers a solution to all holiday problems.

Vacation time is, to most people, the highlight in an otherwise uneventful year. It is thought of for many weeks before it comes, and remembered for long hours afterward. How important it is then, too, choose the proper place for a holiday. In making Sooke the location there is little chance of disappointment, for there are attractions for all in this thriving little district.

SALMON BOARD HAS BIG TASK

Completion of the personnel of the International Pacific Salmon Commission, announced yesterday in Washington, signaled the start of preparations for exhaustive research into sockeye fishing on the Fraser River which it is hoped will eventually restore the big runs of this district so greatly depleted during the last 20 years. The personnel of the commission, set up under the Salmon Treaty signed by the Dominion Parliament and Congress at their last respective sessions, includes three members from Canada and three from the United States. The Canadian members, appointed some time ago, are Dr. W. A. Found, Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries at Ottawa; Thomas Reid, M.P. of New Westminster, and A. L. Hager, Vancouver. The United States representatives are Charles E. Jackson, under study to the commissioner of fisheries for the U.S.; B. M. Brennan, Seattle, director of fisheries for the State of Washington, and Edward W. Allen, secretary of the International Fisheries Commission on halibut.

Under the terms of the treaty the commission has been established to make a detailed study of the life history of the sockeye salmon and other related matters, and when this has been completed, to make such regulations as will serve towards the restoration of the lost production. They will deal solely with the Fraser River area since this is the only one under international jurisdiction.

The commission has power to set up hatcheries and make such scientific research as deemed advisable but for the first eight years it will not be allowed to make any regulations. The commission is established for 16 years, the life of the treaty, but may be changed at any time at the will of either government.

During the first eight years it will be the commissioners' duties to analyze and study the falling off of production carefully as well as the sockeye history and at the end of that time they should be in a position to make such regulations as will serve to attain their objective.

One of the first things to be undertaken will be the establishing of a scientific headquarters for the commission. With adequate facilities at the University of British Columbia and because of its proximity to the Fraser

River area, it is believed Vancouver will be regarded as the logical location for this laboratory. The scientific headquarters for the international halibut commission are in Seattle.

The findings of the commission will be of tremendous import to British Columbia's fishing industry since it is expected to offer a solution for replenishing the catches of Fraser River fishermen. Since 1913 the Fraser River production has fallen off from 2,250,000 cases to around 100,000 cases and less.

Motorist Aims at 400 Miles an Hour

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (AP)—Capt. G. E. T. Eyston, tall 40-year-old British racing motorist, sailed for the United States today on the gamble of his life.

He has wagered much of his personal fortune on a fantastic automobile—a low, 36-foot, 24-cylinder racer, which he hopes one day will travel 400 miles an hour.

Captain Eyston designed the car and supervised its production at Wolverhampton.

"The design of the car may eventually aim at speeds approaching 400 miles an hour, but we will have to have time to develop the technical side of it, and we must have a longer course than is available at Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, before mentioning this as even a possibility."

Short Programme At First United

An organ programme will precede the service to be held at the First United Church on Sunday evening next when J. Smith will render a half-hour of organ works based on hymn tunes and chorales.

Selections from representative outstanding writers have been chosen for this occasion, and the hymn tunes to be heard will be treated in a varied manner displaying the tonal resources of the organ, including the beautiful set of chimes in the instrument. Many of the leading present-day composers have enriched the organist's repertoire with hymn tunes and chorales treated in free style, notably men like C. V. Stanford, C. H. H. Parry and John E. West among British composers. Music of this character has a strong appeal to music lovers.

The following are the selections to be heard: "Chorale and variations" (Henry Smart); chorale prelude on "Hark a Voice Saith, All Is Mortal" (J. S. Bach); "Variations on a Hymn Tune" (William Faulkes); "Eventide" (J. Frank Frysinger); prelude on "Melcombe" (C. H. H. Parry). The postlude will be W. T. Best's "Festive March in D." The programme will start at 7 o'clock.

Medical Staff
Changes Made

Personnel changes in the provincial medical staff were announced by the government this morning.

At Castlegar, Dr. V. B. Gorey has been appointed medical health officer and school health inspector to succeed Dr. L. N. Beckwith, who has left the district.

Dr. R. J. Patchett has been given a similar appointment at Telegraph Creek, and at Smithers Dr. G. G. Ferguson has been appointed to succeed Dr. R. B. Brummitt, whose appointment was rescinded.

TRAVELS IN INDIA TOLD

Bob Davis Tells Rotary "Tooth of Buddha" Is Like Moose's Horn

The most sacred thing in all India looked like the bone handle of a carving knife, Robert H. "Bob" Davis, traveling correspondent of The New York Sun, told the Victoria Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel this afternoon.

In a chatty informal manner, Mr. Davis entertained a large meeting with anecdotes and highlights of his travels which have taken him almost 1,000,000 miles.

The "Tooth of Buddha," seen and revered by 800,000,000 people, was as big as a moose's horn, he said. He asked a priest how big a man this Buddha must have been and he told him there was a foot mark of Buddha on a mountain nearby which was five feet across.

In Ceylon he visited a temple where there was a "Symbol of Buddha" which no man had ever seen. One native told him his grandfather had seen it and it was a single line drawn on a piece of brass.

Yet this single line on a piece of brass made worshippers go through the torture rituals. He saw one young man come out of the temple with his eyes shining bright. His relatives fixed great shark hooks into his back, skewers through his cheeks and nails through his feet.

But when the ceremony was over and the hooks and skewers taken out there was not a drop of blood to be seen and the young man returned to his wife showing no signs of pain.

The Taj Mahal at Agra was no testimony of love, but a monument to human misery, Mr. Davis declared. Mumtaz Mahal was 14 when she married Shah Jehan, who built the tomb and had 14 children by him, finally dying in child birth.

In a library in Florence, Italy, Mr. Davis found a book entitled "The Monstrous Performances of Nature." In this book he discovered an account of the birth of quintuplets in that city in 1895. The doctor who aided in the birth of these children was still alive and he visited him.

This doctor told him that had the temperature of the hospital been 10 degrees higher and had they been able to supply sufficient moisture, the quintuplets would have been kept alive. As it was the three boys and two girls born within 18 minutes of each other died in 1 hour and 20 minutes.

George I. Warren introduced Mr. Davis. Sam Armstrong thanked him, Captain T. H. Goodlake, president, was in the chair. R. B. Butchart and Ex-mayor David Leeming were among the honored guests.

MARKET NOTES

Apricots are still on the market, contrary to dealers' expectations, and may last until the end of the week.

A carload of Okanagan cantaloupes and a shipment of Okanagan Bartlett pears are due here tomorrow. The local market is well supplied with Okanagan tomatoes, which are at the minimum prices, for the season, dealers say.

Blueberries are scarce, with the season ending, and prices are rising.

A shipment of Ladyfinger grapes is expected Friday from California. A carload of citrus fruits is scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

A supper meeting of the Victoria Temperance League was held in the Y.W.C.A. Monday evening with the Rev. W. R. Brown presiding. Choice of a successor to Mr. Brown, who has led the organization for your years, will be the minister of St. Giles United Church, Vancouver, was discussed. A committee was appointed to bring in nominations. Mrs. Nellie McClung was a guest, and gave an account of the recent trip to the east, where she attended the meeting of the C.B.C., when the question of liquor advertising on the radio was considered.

Tumblers Are Preparing Act

The annual Y.M.C.A. circus will be held early in October, despite an accident to one of the members of the tumbling trio which is to be a feature of the affair, officials said yesterday.

Lawrence Moore, one of the three tumblers stars, suffered a broken leg in an accident on the Jordan River Road. It is hoped a substitute for Moore will be found. The other members of the trio are Lorne Ritchie and Hector Alexander. Len Oliver and Chris McRae, together with the two mentioned, will lead the men's tumbling team.

An unusual feature this year will be the addition of a girls' tumbling squad, which has been practicing since early spring under the direction of Archie McKinnon.

Important Meetings
At City Hall Today

Two important meetings, one of the city fire wardens and the other of the zoning board of appeal, were scheduled at the City Hall this afternoon.

The wardens met to discuss terms of the proposed move by the British Columbia Union of Fire Fighters to enter under the Civil Service Act. At the session this afternoon they were scheduled to hear representatives from the local department present the firemen's case.

The zoning board of appeal opened the rehearing of an application from the owners of premises at 915 Moss Street for permission to convert their building into an apartment house. The request was turned down when it first came before the board. Since then a court order has been secured by the owners of the property calling for a rehearing of their application.

WAS VISITOR TO VICTORIA

Sir H. Knatchbull-Hugessen Embarked at Victoria for China

Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China, who was gravely wounded by Japanese near Shanghai today, sailed from Victoria some months ago for China. He succeeded Sir Alexander Cadogan in the British embassy at Peking. For nearly 30 years he has been in the diplomatic service of Great Britain.

A few weeks after his arrival in Peking his daughter, Alethea Knatchbull-Hugessen, was mysteriously shot while cycling. The wound, in the forehead, was only slight, however, and she completely recovered. It was believed she was wounded by a spent bullet fired from a Chinese military drill field.

Sir Hugh's father was brother of the first Lord Brabourne, the father of Senator Adrian Knatchbull-Hugessen, K.C., of Montreal. The ambassador and the Canadian senator, therefore, are first cousins.

Sir Hugh is also a cousin of Paul Lionel Knatchbull-Hugessen of Winnipeg.

The ambassador is the fourth son of the late Rev. Reginald Bridges Knatchbull-Hugessen, sometime rector of West Grinstead, Sussex. After a traditional education at Eton and Oxford, he entered the Foreign Office in 1908.

In 1919 he attained the rank of first secretary in the diplomatic service and was attached to the British delegation at the Peace Conference in Paris.

In 1926 he went to Brussels as counsellor of embassy, where he served for four years. In 1930 he was appointed minister to the Baltic states—Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia—and from there went to Teheran, the capital of Persia, as minister.

He was the first appointed to China after the British minister in that country was raised to the rank of ambassador. Previously there had been a legation there.

Sir Hugh was knighted in the new year's honors of 1936, the last honors list of the reign of King George V.

In 1912 he married Miss Mary Montgomery, daughter of Brig. Gen. Sir Alexander Montgomery. They had three children, a son aged 24 and two daughters.

The Catholic Young People's Club of St. Andrew's Cathedral held its final meeting last night to close out business before making way for the new Catholic Youth Organization now in process of formation. Final reports of committees were read and thanks were tendered retiring officers, and to Mary Black for successfully directing the club's dramatic presentations. It was announced a dance will be given in the K. of C. Hall next Monday night from 9.30 to 1.30.

New Salt Fish
Control Scheme

Government Provides Legislation for Marketing Produce of Fish Packers

Revival of a marketing scheme for dry salt herring and dry salt salmon in British Columbia was announced by the provincial government this morning.

A former scheme operated under the federal marketing legislation was abandoned last January when the Privy Council ruled against the Dominion act.

The revived scheme will be operated under the provincial Natural Products Marketing Act, and will be carried out along similar lines to other marketing schemes already in effect.

The order-in-council authorizing the plan provides for the setting up of a five-man board to administer control, including Hugh Dalton, Vancouver, as chairman and the following other Vancouver members: George E. Crawford, Arthur J. Blackwell, Kishizo Kimura and Toyozo Matsuyama.

As was the case in setting up other marketing schemes, the fish control was instituted at the request of B.C. fish packers who approached Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture.

"BOB" DAVIS
HERE AGAIN

New York Sun's Traveling Correspondent "Sold" on the Yukon

"Bob" Davis, traveling correspondent for The New York Sun, returned to Vancouver Island today for the seventh time, more than ever convinced it is the finest place on the face of the globe and full of stories of Alaska and the Yukon, where he has just had a lengthy tour. With Mrs. Davis he is at the Empress Hotel. They will remain on the island about ten days.

It was his first trip into the Yukon and he said this morning he was "sold" on it. He fell under the charm of its beauty and its grandeur and is positive both Alaska and the Yukon will experience another boom that "will paralyze the world."

He refused to talk of the proposed annexation of the Yukon to British Columbia, but admonished "you in British Columbia keep your eye on it." With the support and alliance of British Columbia, he said, the Yukon would become a mighty factor in the life of Canada.

"Men are going into the Yukon and making careful surveys of its possibilities," Mr. Davis said. "They are taking money there. There are lots of silent men going into the country with money in their hip pockets."

Mr. Davis recalled the great gold strikes in Alaska and the Yukon over the last fifty years. He said they compared in some particulars to any great gold-bearing regions in the world.

"Another boom as good as any of those will start another procession of mining men into the Yukon that will baffle civilization," he said.

"When I got as far as Dawson I began to feel affected by the river's charm, so I took a slow boat from Dawson to White Horse and spent seven days on the river, 450 miles at five knots. There's not a river on the North American continent any more beautiful."

Mr. and Mrs. Davis spent three days in Dawson, after traveling up the river from Nana. They stopped at small settlements, talked to pioneers, miners, trappers and other picturesque characters of the north. All will find a place in New York Sun stories.

Already Mr. Davis has sent 42 articles on Alaska and the Yukon to his paper in New York and they will run every second day on the editorial page for three months.

TO TAKE DOG

Mr. Davis is going to take a Vancouver Island dog home with him to New York. The famed dog that waits on patrons at an inn at Bowser has had several sons, and one of them will be presented to the traveling correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis also have their eye on a home in Victoria and intend, some day, to spend about six months of the year here. They are convinced there is no more delightful spot. And they should know, for they have traveled all over the world and visited in hundreds of cities in recent years.

Vancouver Island is the only place in the world, apart from Honolulu, where Davis has returned for a visit. He said it's the only place in the world he goes for pleasure. He likes the people here, the lack of hostile and-bustle, scenery, the climate, the food—everything in fact.

A. E. Whitehouse. The hymn "Unto the Hills" was sung, and "Face to Face" was sung as a solo by Mrs. H. Shingles. The casket and hearse were hidden beneath the many beautiful floral tributes. The following acted as pallbearers: O. Hoyt, W. Gray, M. Pearson, J. Wright, T. Woods and J. McLeellan. The remains were laid at rest in Colwood Burial Park.

The first group will include all employable, the second unemployable and the third those receiving relief from other causes.

VANCOUVER TO STAGE FINAL

VANCOUVER (CP)—Some of the tumult and shouting died in the Inter-city Box Lacrosse League today as fans accepted the fact the Mann Cup finals, deciding Canadian lacrosse supremacy, would be played in Vancouver, no matter who the finalists were.

Yesterday Jim McConaghy, Inter-city lacrosse commissioner, received a letter from Mike Kelley of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association which reiterated the president's decision the Mann Cup finals would be played at Vancouver Forum.

Answering the deft of Fred Hume, Mayor of New Westminster, that if Salmonbellies won the provincial playoffs the finals would be in the Royal City, or Salmonbellies "wouldn't take the floor," Kelley said in that case the C.A.L.A. would "take the second best team to oppose the eastern champions."

Seven games remain to be played before the finals of the Red Rock Canyon, one of the thrilling beauty spots of southern California which all eastern tourists visit, is to be seen in all its glory in "Hit the Saddle," Republic's pulsating western picture which brings the popular "Three Mesquiteers" to the Columbia Theatre today.

Strangely carved rock walls, towering hundreds of feet high; petrified trees and stumps, and the smoothly curved humps of old lava flows, make Red Rock Canyon one of the oldest and most fascinating picnic grounds of the Mojave Desert. The vast canyon and its narrow ravines were used for the locations which show the mountain home of a huge herd of wild horses.

Harlow's Double Used in Picture

Behind the release of the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Saratoga," which opens tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre with Clark Gable and Jean Harlow in the starring roles, lies one of the most unusual technical tasks ever attempted in a Hollywood studio.

When the flood of letters began pouring into the M-G-M studio demanding the release of this picture, Director Jack Conway was faced with the problem of devising a means of finishing the few uncompleted scenes without the feminine star.

The solution lay in re-writing these sequences to eliminate as far as possible the character she played; re-editing scenes already filmed to conform with the new treatment; and the use of several technical devices.

Intercity league are reached, with little doubt attached to the three teams which will be on top. Despite four successive defeats, Salmonbellies' lead of 40 points assures them of a place. At present another New Westminster team, Adanacs, is second, with 28 points, while third is Richmond-Homes with 24.

Fourth is Indians with a total of 20, and only a mathematical, unlikely chance will enable them to oust Richmonds. Burrards, who eked out an 18 to 17 win over Salmonbellies last Monday, trail the league with 14 points.

Outdoor Drama At the Plaza

"It Happened Out West" by Harold Bell Wright Opens Today

One of the most painstaking tasks of construction ever faced by a motion picture studio's property department is winning wide acclaim from dairy farmers and agriculture experts who have seen the Twentieth Century-Fox release, "It Happened Out West," Harold Bell Wright's latest outdoor adventure romance, featuring Paul Kelly and Judith Allen, which is now at the Plaza Theatre.

The locale of the story is the grazing country of the great west and much of the action centres around a dairy ranch, which was constructed in its entirety from designs by Lewis J. Rachmil, expert on western architecture, and from plans furnished by dairy associations throughout Arizona, New Mexico and Southern California.

Also being shown as the second feature is "Laughing at Trouble," with Jane Darwell.

FINE CAST AT THE OAK BAY

Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, Franchot Tone in "Love On the Run"

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable have the time of their lives in their new co-starring picture, "Love on the Run," which opens today at the Oak Bay Theatre, and it is a safe bet to say the film public viewing this picture will have the time of its life as well. Not in a long time has there been a picture which has the freshness, gaiety and spontaneity of "Love on the Run."

Acted to perfection by its ace team of stars, with the support of Franchot Tone, Reginald Owen, Mona Barrie and others, the new offering has that combination of wit, charm and pulsating action which marked such earlier hits as "The Thin Man" and "It Happened One Night." Jane Withers is the star of "Holy Terror," which is showing on the same programme.

ATLAS THEATRE

During the filming of "Turn off the Moon," Paramount's latest musical contribution, now at the Atlas Theatre, Charlie Ruggles became an instructor of chorus girls when he lectured them on how to hold a husband. As usual with all Ruggles enterprises his lectures consisted in telling them the things to do that would lose their husbands.

Barley is apparently the oldest farm grain, says a German professor.

The most powerful explosive man makes is nitroglycerine.

Remarque Story Opens Tomorrow

Intensely human, powerfully dramatic, a skilful blending of comedy, pathos, suspense, is Universal's "The Road Back," which will open its run at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

With the production of this vividly etched picture of life in Germany following the Armistice, "The Road Back," the director, has proved himself the peer of any of Hollywood's creative artists. His direction is never obtrusive, but underneath every scene, whether it is comedy or drama, his great genius develops the flow of the story.

Briefly, the story concerns the efforts of a group of boys to adjust themselves to conditions of four years spent in the trenches. "The Road Back" takes up where "A Quiet on the Western Front" leaves off. Both are by the same author, Erich Remarque.

Adventures of a Missionary

IV—SHIPS IN THE DISTANCE

After his failure to keep hold of the goat, the missionary went back to his cabin on the lonely island. He had wanted the goat as a companion, as something which might take the place of a friend.

Sad because of his loss, Henry felt he was worse off than Robinson Crusoe had been. In the story book, Defoe had told about Crusoe's pets, including a dog and a parrot.

He Found Some Honey in the Hollow of an Old Tree.

Neither on that day, nor on any other, did Henry obtain a goat, though he saw them now and then climbing about the hills. He did, however, find some honey made by wild bees. He was able to obtain so much of this that he made several crude clay jars, and used them for storing it. The honey tasted very good.

A dead shark was washed upon the beach. From certain of its bones he made fish hooks, and afterward went fishing fairly often.

The record of the missionary's everyday life on the island, as he wrote it down himself, is given in these paragraphs:

"I generally awoke early, went to the spring and had a fresh bath. My next task was to go for oysters or fish for breakfast. Then I went to the forest for a supply of firewood, and gathered fresh ferns for my bed.

"For my midday meal I had fish and wild palm, or sometimes wild cabbage. This I found growing at the foot of the rocks.

"The afternoon I generally spent in a walk in the forest, but I dared not go too far into it for fear of losing my way back. As soon as it was dark, I went to my hut, and made hooks, or lines, or other things. I kept a good supply of fish inside the hut."

After seven weeks on the island, Henry spied a sail in the distance. As quickly as he could he lighted a bonfire, hoping to give a signal in that way. The effort failed, for the vessel faded out of sight.

Would ever such a thing happen again? He did not know, but he hoped with all his heart that someone would come to the rescue. Three or four times each day he went to a high point and looked over the ocean, but could see nothing but the waves.

On a warm sunny day, three months later, the man thought he saw a small speck far out at sea. In a little while it grew larger, and he could make out sails! This time he not only built a large bonfire, but also put green branches on it, hoping the smoke would make a better signal than he had made before. The sails belonged to a schooner, and it came within four miles of the island, but then went on with its journey. So far as he could tell, no one aboard had seen the smoke of his fire.

HAS LONG MEMORY

LONDON, Ont.—Provincial L. L. Shipley has a long memory. Charged with auto theft, a man gave his name as Morgan but admitted he was really Morris, as the constable said he was years ago.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—We are a group of girls who frankly want to marry. Please tell us how to get our man—SALLY AND SUE AND BETH AND MARY AND OTHERS.

Answer—Well, there is no one recipe for catching a husband as there is for making sponge cake. You have to vary your technique to suit the man. Some men like girls who run after them and some of them prefer to do the chasing themselves. Some men like girls who flout them, others prefer girls who soft-soap them.

Your method must depend upon the man. If a man is timid, shy and tongue-tied in the presence of women, you will have to do all the courting because he will never summon up the nerve to do it himself. You will have to make the dates, do the telephoning and practically pop the question. Deal gently with him, or else you will scare him off.

But if a boy is of the bold, aggressive type, and especially if he fancies himself, it is nearly always a winning play to treat him rough. Make him think that he means nothing in your young life. Break dates with him. Make him do all the telephoning and write two letters to your one. This will rouse his fighting blood and put him on his mettle to break down your sales resistance.

Remember that different fish rise to different bait. If you are angling for a college boy or a sugar papa, bait your hook with youth and good looks and good clothes. That is about all that ever attracts them to a woman. But be wary. They are slippery fish to hold and just when you think you are about to land them they are likely to flop off of the line.

If you want to catch a widower, get up early and get a running start. Get in your work while he is still feeling lonesome and lost, without a wife to boss him and take care of him. Begin asking him to dinner about the time he has got so sick of clubs and restaurant cooking that it gags him even to read over a menu, and great will be your reward. Comforting a widower is the easiest known way of getting a husband.

If you are after a business man, and none are more desirable as husbands, do not make the mistake of studying the stock market so you can converse intelligently upon it. On the contrary, be a Dumb Dora and ask him to tell you the difference between a bull and a bear. Lend him your ears while he discourses about the wonderful deal he has pulled off in the green grocery trade, or how he made a killing in wheat, and marvel at his financial sagacity. Many a man marries just to get a patient listener.

Of course, the common, or garden, or foolproof way of getting man is by flattery. Virtually all men fall for this. If he is vain, hand it to him in chunks and he will swallow it whole and ask for more. If he is more or less modest in his opinion of himself, be more discriminating and feed it to him in homeopathic doses.

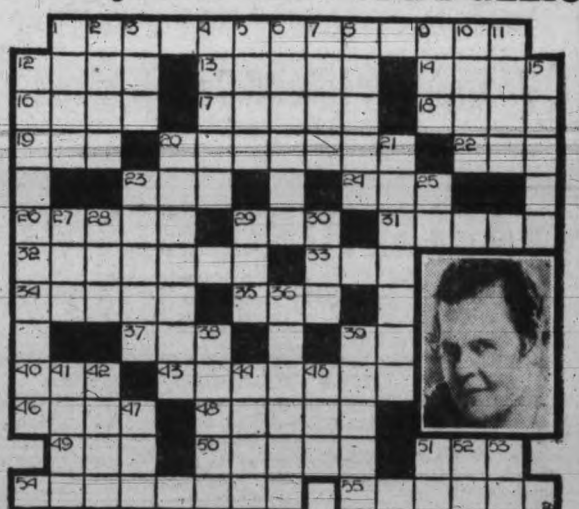

DEAR MISS DIX—You wonder why men who love their children, who toil like slaves to give them every advantage and all of whose hopes and ambitions are centered in them, wash their hands of their upbringing. I can tell you why one father feels that the best way for him and his is to figure as little as possible in the handling of the children, and there are doubtless many who have his experience. It is because the mother resents any attempt of the father to control or direct the children. Because she interferes between them and negates all of his plans and because he finds out that if he attempts to take any active part in managing the children it will bring up constant conflicts between himself and his wife that will not only destroy his authority but hers. He feels that it is better for the children to have a peaceful home and one in which the father and mother are apparently in accord than it would be for him to exercise any authority as a father. Hence he just fades out of the picture.

N. A. S.

Answer—No doubt you are right, and that many a father finds that the hands-off policy is the only one that he can use in dealing with a monopolistic mother.
